

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

"I had been a sufferer for many years from nervousness with all its symptoms and complications," writes Mrs. O. N. Fisher, 1861 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. "I was constantly going to see a physician or purchasing medicine. In the spring of 1897 my husband induced me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After taking one bottle and following your advice I was so encouraged that I took five more bottles, and then stopped for several weeks as I felt so much better, but still I was not completely cured. I commenced taking it again and felt that I was improving faster than at first. I am not now cross and irritable, and I have a good color in my face; have also gained about ten pounds in weight and one thousand pounds of comfort, for I am a new woman once more and your advice and your 'Favorite Prescription' is the cause of it, coupled with the 'Pleasant Pellets' which are not to be dispensed with. I took eight bottles of the 'Prescription' the last time, making fourteen in all, and will not take any more unless you so advise, for I do not see as I need it."

They Taught Him How to Hunt Snipe.

A St. Joseph commercial tourist, a widely-traveled person, and one of much experience, but athirst for information withal, visited Marshall last week, and, incidentally, in the course of conversation on the subject, admitted that he had never enjoyed the pleasures of participating in a snipe hunt. "Several of the young men of Marshall," relates the REPUBLICAN, "who, be it said to their credit, are never lacking in courtesy, proposed a snipe hunt for Friday night, when they promised they would introduce their up-to-date friend into the mysteries of hunting this much-talked-of bird. Promptly at ten o'clock Friday night they started for Salt Fork, with all the needed paraphernalia for the trip. It being dark with a cold rain falling, made an ideal night for snipe. When eleven o'clock came the young man had been thoroughly drilled in all the mysteries necessary to secure success, and they left him alone on the other side of Salt Fork, where standing between two lighted lanterns he held the sack in the most approved fashion. The lanterns made things cheery for him in the silence of the night, giving him a fine opportunity of meditating upon the blessed fact that he could from this on add snipe-hunting to his repertoire of gentlemanly sports and accomplishments. After holding the sack for three hours in a pouring rain, he wisely decided that it must be a bad night for snipe and started for town. Not knowing the way, he labored under great disadvantage, but about this time he gladly spied an approaching vehicle coming up the road and screamed manfully for assistance. The man in the rig seemed as deaf to his desires as did the Saline county snipe, who never made their appearance. The St. Joseph man, failing to find the bridge, walked through water knee deep and arrived at Ming's hotel at three o'clock in the morning, where he found the Marshall boys had arrived some time ahead of him and were ready to receive the sack and agree with him that it was indeed a bad night for snipe."—Kansas City Journal.

A Glory Song.

Des ain't nuttin' on nirth fer me,
Gimme glory!
Satan climb de gospel tree,
Gimme glory!
Climb way up, en den look roun'
But de gospel broadax cut 'im down,
En he fall so hard dat he shake de groun',
Gimme glory!
Oh, my people, what I see?
Gimme glory!
Satan up de gospel tree,
Gimme glory!
Gimme de gospel meat en bread,
En de gospel piller fer my head;
En den let Gabrul wake me dead,
Gimme glory!

Dry Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum and Moist Eczema of Scrotum.

All eruptive diseases originate in the blood and kidneys. Blood is impregnated with dead or decayed tissue and poisonous elements which the kidneys and bowels are unable to expel. Pores of skin become clogged, and thus the system is a hot-bed of malignant poisons which generate parasites or insects that burrow their way to the skin, causing various forms of Eczema. No more powerful blood cleanser and kidney regulator can be found than

DR. A. V. BANES RHEUMATIC SPECIFIC which has an especial attraction for these conditions, existing in blood and kidneys; $1.00 per bottle.

No more soothing, healing ointment can be found than

Short Talks on Advertising By Charles Austin Bates.

No. 6.

The best paper in a community always brings ample returns to its advertisers. The best paper covers the cream of the trade in any section.

Mark Twain says: "Behold the fool saith: 'Put not all thine eggs in one basket,' which is but a manner of saying, 'Scatter your money and your attention;' but the wise man saith: 'Put all thine eggs in the one basket and—watch that basket.'"

"Which the same" applies equally to newspapers. Put your ad. in the best paper, and then watch the paper and the ad. Have a system of checking the returns received, and be very sure of this much: If the ad. doesn't pay, the fault is in the ad. or the goods, or the store—not in the paper.

It will do no good to advertise something that nobody wants. Find out what there is a demand for and advertise that. You can create a demand for an article if you have time and money enough to keep up a continual hammering. For the retail dealer this is a waste of energy, because there are dozens of things in every stock for which a demand already exists.

Don't say what everybody else in your line is saying, and never publish a general ad. There are three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, on each of which you can talk in the newspapers. Don't try to tell all you know about the whole store every day. Talk of several items each time if you like, but say something definite about each one. Don't say "Fine shoes for men, women and children," but talk about one shoe in each line and give prices. The newspaper will carry what you say right into the best homes in the community. It will give your words a thousand tongues. Out of one thousand people, probably fifteen need shoes every day. If you tell them about your stock, you will surely get your proportion of the trade. If you don't, you won't get it.

It's a simple proposition, and as true as it is simple.

A Remedy for the Grippe.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the grippe is Kemp's Balsam, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease; get a bottle to-day and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. Kemp's Balsam prevents this by keeping the cough loose and the lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam at 25c. and 50c. 12-4t
